Boral is an international building products and construction materials group. The company operates in all states of Australia as well as in Asia, the Middle East and the USA.

Boral recognises that the training received during military service is second to none and that the skills obtained are widely valued in our business for front line and senior leaders. Service members gain a lot from the unique experiences and conditions under which they operate. These skills and experiences translate well to the type of businesses that Boral has and we see value in recruiting those with experience in the armed services.

Boral provides a supportive environment for those who are transitioning from full time engagement with the armed services. We have established Boral Defence Alumni to enable former members, and those who continue to serve, access to a network for mentoring, development, and comradeship. Boral also supports our employees who choose to serve in the Reserves.

The HR team we have here today have all had some exposure or experience in or with service members, and can assist you with information on jobs with Boral. We can also help you with translating your service experience and how that may be applicable to the numerous roles we have in Boral.
